About us

Our group, The United Social Advocates (USA), is made up of, Kennedy, Talayeh, Croix, Augie, Charlotte, and Abigail.

We choose the issue of cruel animal breeding because all of our group was interested in helping solve the animal problems in our community. We specifically choose animal breeding as not many others were working on solving it.

The Issues

Cruel animal breeding happens because people don't have accurate information about reputable or non-reputable breeders.

- Some communities we're apart of are Austin pets alive, Nashville Humane Association, and Saving Hope
- Things we love about communities are that they save animals from bad homes and help find good people to foster them

Important Information

- Signs of a good breeder:
  - Can provide proof of license.
  - Provide constant update photos of the dogs.
  - Are able to show the parents, or at least the mother.
  - Breeders require a form saying that you will spay/neuter them.

- Reasons why breeders result to cruel animal breeding practices:
  - Easy profit and cost efficiency
    - Low amounts and quality of food and water
    - No medication
    - Little to no labor, no workers required
  - No enforcement of laws against cruel breeding

Take Action

Actions you can do to help stop cruel animal breeding:

- Look into the breeders you're buying from
- Prioritize adopting from animal shelters over breeders
- Volunteer to foster and or help out at animal shelters
- Report any knowledge of animal cruelty to authorities
- Help spread awareness about cruel animal breeding
- Look into animal welfare organizations and or donate money to help the animals

What We Learned

Things we learned

- Signs of bad breeders
- Reason breeders resort to cruel breeding practices
- Conditions animals in cruel breeding facilities live in
- Problems of inbreeding animals
- Why people buy from breeders
